Notice to members and non-members who participate in CUHKAAA Seminars

Disclaimer

This seminar is organised and presented by the Chinese University of Hong Kong Alumni Association Australia Inc. (the Association), an incorporated association registered in New South Wales.

The information provided at this seminar is for general informational purposes only and does not constitute medical, health, financial, or legal advice. It has not been prepared having regard to any individual's objectives, financial situation, or particular needs.

While the Association endeavours to ensure that information presented is accurate and up to date, no representation or warranty is made as to its accuracy, completeness, or currency. Information relating to aged care services, including processes associated with My Aged Care, is subject to change.

The views and opinions expressed by guest speakers are their own and do not necessarily reflect those of the Association. Reference to any organisation, service provider, or product does not constitute endorsement, recommendation, or approval by the Association.

To the maximum extent permitted by law, the Association excludes all liability for any loss, damage, or injury (including indirect or consequential loss) arising from or in connection with reliance on information presented at the seminar.

Attendees should seek independent professional advice tailored to their personal circumstances before making any decisions relating to health, aged care services, or financial matters.

Participation in any physical activities or demonstrations during the seminar is voluntary and undertaken at the participant's own risk.
