It is a profound honour and privilege for me to be awarded the CUHK Convocation Outstanding Services and Creativity Student Award 2022/23 - Outstanding Campus Service. Not only does the scholarship recognise my contributions to the CUHK community, but it also encourages me to continue my service after graduation.

I always believe university students should not limit themselves to academic pursuits, but also utilise their free time and knowledge acquired by contributing to communities around them. As a graduating student, I am thankful for having numerous opportunities to serve CUHK since my admission in 2018.

On the intervarsity level, I was privileged to serve as CUHK's representative to the Hong Kong Federation of Students for three consecutive terms. Amidst social movements and the COVID-19 pandemic, I cooperated with representatives from other tertiary institutions in civil rights education and the provision of various assistance to students in need. I also represented CUHK in the 42nd Hong Kong Intersarsity Political Debate, in which I was fortunately awarded the best debater and helped the university in winning the competition.

For services within the campus, I was honoured to serve as a representative to the Senate and six university committees. I strived to act as a bridge between students and the university management in areas across student discipline, campus transport, health service and campus safety. For instance, in the University Health Service Committee, I cooperated with other members in enhancing the response time and quality of mental health services, particularly for students who were mentally distressed during strict pandemic-preventive measures. I am grateful to have been granted the 2020 Outstanding Student Award by the university, and elected President of CUHK's Student Union (CUSU) in 2021.

In Lee Woo Sing College, I also served as the President of its Student Union (WSSU) from 2019 to 2020. During my presidency, I have dedicated myself to the protection of students' interests throughout that unprecedentedly challenging times. Meanwhile, as a student representative of the Assembly of Fellows and six management committees, I actively participated in college governance, handling affairs like admission, general education, hostel, sports, and scholarships. I was also a member of the football team and the organising committees of various major college events, including the College Singing Contest and Anniversary Celebration.

With enormous and enduring gratitude, I am honoured to have had the opportunity to serve this prestigious university I love. Apart from continuing and deepening my linkage with CUHK through joining alumni associations on different levels, I wish to further my studies in the legal field and contribute to justice following graduation. This scholarship has given me the crucial financial capability to pursue my dream. Hence, once again, I would like to express my heartfelt gratitude to the CUHK Convocation for granting me the award, and congratulations to my fellow awardees.
