

CUHK Convocation Study Improvement Awards 2017/18
香港中文大學校友評議會學業進步獎 2017/18

Name 姓名	Wong Lok Yan
-------------------	--------------

Major 主修	LLB
--------------------	-----

I will like to take this opportunity to thank CUHK Convocation for selecting me as one of the recipients of this scholarship. Your generosity allows me to lessen my family's financial burden and to focus primarily on my legal study. A scholarship as such means more than one can imagine. With such an assistance, I wish to strive even harder and to achieve more in the future.

The key to improve academic performance is no secret. There is no shortcut to final destination. As cliché as it sounds, but the key to improve my academic performance is constant revision. I have spent a large part of my year 1 to adapt to the new environment which is so much different from my secondary school's. I think the same problem is encountered by most freshmen that not only is our learning style different, but also there are so many new stimuli in the university, such as the social life, the culture, the activities and etc. Freshmen are so overwhelmed by all these stimuli and temporarily lose focus on their academic studies. I am not sure if that is the case for all freshmen, but I encountered this problem last year. The university life was definitely so new for me, but at the same time, there was so much to handle, and I lost focus on my study. When year 2 began, I shifted my focus back to my academic study when I fully adapted to the new stage of life I was in. When I start to realize what my priority is, then there is nothing to hold me back anymore, so I start studying hard. Gladly, my hard work paid off and I improved. There are still a lot of rooms for improvement in the future, so I hope it does not stop here.

I hope my experience is useful for those who are still adapting to the university life. Once again, I am grateful to CUHK Convocation for recognizing my hard work. The scholarship is a strong motivation for me to work even harder in the future. Thank you so much for the scholarship.

Me (left) and other outgoing executive committees of Undergraduate Law Society joining the inauguration of the incoming committees

Me and my group during Ocamp in Wu Yee Sun College (I am in the front row on the right)